

Why Multi-State Licensing?

ACCESS MORE PATIENTS

Multi-state licensing enables you to provide care in both synchronous and asynchronous modes.

MORE REACH

Multiple licenses mean more avenues to find opportunities through clinical and non-clinical means. Learn new skills that allow for additional reach simply by having an active license.

NEW CLINICAL OPPORTUNITIES

Expand your opportunities to work with other healthcare professionals, regardless of location through supervision, PC Ownership or Medical Directorships.

FIND YOUR NICHE

Discover new markets and specialties that align with your strengths and interests but may require some additional experience or training.

State Regulations: The Compliance Puzzle

Understand the Basics: Each state has specific rules for licensing, including educational qualifications, exams, and background checks.

Key Differences: Be mindful of state-specific requirements like additional CME credits, ethics training, notary requirements, controlled substance prescribing rules—these can affect your eligibility and reach within the state.

Stay Updated: Laws change, so staying informed about each state's regulations is crucial to maintaining your licenses and practice.

Key Considerations

- ✓ State requirements & processes are different and tedious but must be followed
- ✓ IMLC participation will simplify and expedite the process
- ✓ While the cost may be significant, it is a high-return on investment
- ✓ Some states are difficult and may require certain pre-requisites for telemedicine
- ✓ Once applications are submitted, be sure to make corrections quick! You are on a time-clock.
- ✓ A Licensing Specialist is definitely worth the cost. They are experts and take care of all the paperwork, even corrections

AIR

Scan to Learn More

from our Preferred
Licensing Experts

US Healthcare Licensing

LICENSING CHECKLIST

Requested

Copies Obtained

Instructions: Before starting any licensing, its important to request and store all the required documents needed for each state you want to proceed with. While each state requires different items, it expedites the process by collecting everything before beginning.

Notes☐☐Medical School Diploma☐☐Medical School Transcripts☐☐Proof of Postgraduate Training (Residency)☐☐USMLE/COMLEX Scores☐☐ECFMG Certification (if applicable)☐☐State Board Exams☐☐Criminal Background Check☐☐Licensing Sponsorship (CA, TX, FL)☐☐Verification of Licensure (other states)☐☐Proof of Malpractice (some states)☐☐Malpractice Insurance Coverage☐☐Continuing Medical Education (CME) Credits☐☐Personal Identification☐☐Professional References (some states require direct submission)☐☐Curriculum Vitae (CV)

Exercise:

Building a Licensing Plan

Getting your medical license, especially across multiple states, can feel like a complex puzzle. These exercises will help you create a clear and organized plan, ensuring you have everything you need to navigate the licensing process smoothly.

Instructions: Use the prompt below to brainstorm and begin a licensing roadmap.

Take a moment to review where you're currently licensed. Are your licenses active? Note down all the states actively licensed in and your reason for being licensed there.

Identify a few states that interest you. Leverage the next exercise to see what your options are for getting fully licensed or how to prioritize different states. Create specific states to prioritize and note down that you need for those states to get started.

Create your licensing budget using the License Prioritization exercise to start tracking the necessary resources needed for your license investment.
